The Penrod Magnetic Catch System is a new type of door latch for single & double closet doors that uses powerful magnets to keep your doors shut. It is easy to install and use, and it works with any type of door.

The system comes with two powerful magnets that are placed on the inside of your door, and when the door is closed, the magnets hold the door shut.

Penrod Magnetic Catch is easy to install and once installed there is zero maintenance or further adjusting required.

The magnetic catch system for closet single & double doors offers several outstanding features and benefits:

Strong Magnetic Force: The neodymium magnets used in the latch system provide a powerful and reliable hold, ensuring the doors stay securely closed without any accidental openings.

Silent and Smooth Operation: The magnetic catch system offers quiet and seamless door closure, eliminating any noise associated with traditional latch systems.

Space-Saving Design: Unlike traditional catch systems, neodymium magnets are compact and space-saving, allowing for a more streamlined and aesthetically pleasing closet door setup.

Easy Installation: The simplicity of the Penrod magnet catch system makes installation quick and straightforward, reducing installation time and cost.

Durability and Longevity: Neodymium magnets are highly durable and resistant to wear and tear, ensuring the latch system's longevity and consistent performance over time.

No Visible Hardware: The magnetic catch system remains hidden inside the doors and frames, offering a clean and seamless appearance without any visible hardware, enhancing the aesthetic appeal of the closet space.

Maintenance-Free: Once installed, the magnetic catch system requires little to no maintenance, saving time and effort for the homeowner.

Cost Savings: Only one catch is required for double doors vs. two units needed for competitive products.
